According to 37 CFR 1.821(b and c), applicant must include the sequence of IκBα in the CRF and written sequence disclosure since specific residues, i.e. 32 and 36, of this sequence are mentioned in the instant pending claims. Since the examination could be examined without this disclosure this has been done, however this sequence must be included in the specification.

The 1449 filed on 8/12/02 has been initialed and signed. The references lined out were not included on the patent issued on the grandparent application, 08/825,559, or were not submitted in the parent application, 09/406,293. The three PTO-892s submitted were not initialed as there is no place to initial and furthermore if applicants want reference considered they are required to put them on a PTO-1449, not submit a copy of a PTO-892 that had been sent by an examiner.

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-4 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-7 of U.S. Patent No. 6,107,073. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because they are claiming essentially the same thing. The instant patent claims are drawn to "a ubiquitin dependent purified kinase". The instant specification teaches at least in the first paragraph on page 6 that the kinase can be activated by ubiquitin or MEKK-1, and therefor the instant claims are actually drawn to the same kinase as the patented claims.

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, because the specification, while being enabling for a kinase that is activated or dependent upon ubiquitin or MEKK-1, does not reasonably provide enablement for claims of the scope of the instant claims. The specification does not enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention commensurate in scope with these claims.

In at least the first full paragraph on page 6 it is taught that the kinase of this invention is activated by a ubiquitination event or via phosphorylation with MEKK-1. This is taught throughout the specification. It is not taught that the kinase is active without one of these two activations.

The great-grandparent of this application, 08/616,499, contains a discussion of identifying an agonist or antagonist of the kinase enzyme and therefore Mercurio, et al. (AA) is not used for an art rejection as it was in the parent application.
